

Alexander Tucker Custom Made

Released as part of ATP's Custom Made EP series, this is best viewed as a meaningful stopgap from our very own homegrown, folk drone gnome prior to the release of his upcoming album 'Portal' next month. Featuring a reworking of an old song, two new songs and a Fursaxa cover, Tucker's voice, and indeed his guitar playing, is as magical and ethereal as ever, but new album track 'Veins To The Sky' hints at a ever so slightly more accessible direction to his new work. Beguiling and touched with sombre serenity Tucker is at the apex of his song writing game, so I'd be quick if you want one of the 1000 limited copies of this, it will be gone very, very quickly.

[myspace.com/
alexanderdtucker](http://myspace.com/alexanderdtucker)