EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Life on a NATO Base

Exhibition guided tour

We offer a guided tour to the exhibition 'Life on a NATO Base' that focuses on the everyday lives of U.S. soldiers and their families during their tour of duty at Naval Air Station Keflavik (NASKEF), Iceland.

For over half a century, more than 200,000 U.S. citizens lived and worked at NASKEF along with thousands of Icelandic employees. That is a high number considering that the Icelandic population is barely more than 300,000. The gates to NASKEF were closed in September 2006, marking the end of an era. The exhibition is a beginning of a conversation that looks at different cultures and how they coexisted during this time.

The exhibition opened in May 2013.

The tour starts at Andrews Theatre at 14:00 with a short walk towards the exhibition with interesting stories on the way.

Price 1,000 ISK (approx. 5 GBP).

Pop Quiz hosted by Dr. Gunni

On Saturday June 29th Dr. Gunni (musician, music writer and host of pop quiz TV show Poppunktur for eight seasons) will host a pop quiz between 17:00-18:00 in the Officers club. People can participate in teams of two to four people simply by showing up. The quiz will be in English.

Football - Bands vs. Fans

From 11:00-13:00 bands and fans are welcome to play football at the football pitch located next to Atlantic Studios.

Bingo

Lord Sinclair will be hosting Book Bingo at this year's ATP Iceland, taking place in Officers Club at 7pm on Friday. Book Bingo is a chance for fans to pass on cherished books and discover new favourites. Fans will be asked to donate books before the start of the game, as it is as much about sharing books you have enjoyed as playing Bingo, and we will also have some new books provided by publishers and other generous organizations. Every bingo call is a quote from a book and the first person to name the book wins a book from those donated. Book Bingo has been very popular at other ATP's and gives anyone with a love of books the opportunity to go home with a new treasure.
